RUM OUTLAWS IN NEW FIGHT ON BLOCKADE

Latest Method of Attack Is to Entice Members of American Coast Guards
6 ARE COURT MARTIALED Men Guilty of Smuggling and Drinking and Refuse to Reinlist in Service

By Associated Press
New York — Internal troubles are proving handicaps to coast guard
men blockading New York's Rum
Row. Six members of the coast guard have been court martialed for smuggling liquor and three for intoxication, it was revealed Monday.
Officers have refused to discuss the affair but it is known that 19 men have been confined for varying periods in the county jail on Staten Island, awaiting court martial for various offenses. Six convicted of smuggling have been sentenced to six months imprisonment and three got three months each for intoxication.
A far greater handicap is the prospect of a shortage of men in the fleet.
Fully 30 per cent, it is said, will not reenlist when their service terminates July 1.

CAN'T MATCH SPEED.
The coast guard has found in the speedy rum running boat Cigarette
a foe which is all but invincible. Because of its vastly superior speed
the Cigarette outdistances the fastest of the dry navy's fleet. It is reported to have slipped through the lines several nights ago and have headed for the sea.
The present blockade is continuing effective, however, and reports indicate that within a short time fewer than half a dozen ships will remain
of the 50 odd ten days ago.
A four-day cruise of the rum running area by newspaper men showed that a billion dollar group of rum
smugglers was being combated by a $30,000,000 coast guard organization.
Officials believe the war will last long, and they are equally sure that no liquor is being smuggled into New York proper, or through New England to New Jersey.
Coast guard boats are believed to be gathering for a blockade of the gulf coast.

Abby Rockefeller, daughter of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., said to be the richest girl in the world, is enjoying her first real freedom she says. The word "obey" was omitted from the marriage service. Here she is shown with her husband, David Milton, (in center) about to set sail on the S. S. Paris for a four-month honeymoon tour. Her father and mother (left and right) went to the boat to wish them goodspeed.

DARROW LIKENS BRYAN TO NERO AS BIBLE BIGOT

New York—Clarence Darrow, Chicago lawyer, who is to oppose William J. Bryan in a Tennessee evolution trial, came out Monday with a few opinions about the commoner.
Nero and Bryan were linked by Darrow as men whose irrational opposition enhanced the spread of great doctrines.
"Nero," he said, "tried to kill Christianity with persecution and law. Bryan would block enlightenment with law. Nero failed as will Bryan. More persons are studying evolution in Tennessee now than before the law was passed, just as Nero's acts made Christians."

2 YOUNG COUPLES KILLED BY TRAIN

Automobile Party Meets
Death at Oconomowoc
Crossing—One Dead at Racine

Milwaukee — Five persons were killed by a Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad express train which crossed the small course 300 feet, and several were seriously injured in automobile accidents in Milwaukee
and its vicinity Sunday.
Sunday's death record of traffic
misdeeds were:
Miss Mable Hyde, 22, Milwaukee.
Miss Marion Stell, 23, Cudahy.
Lester Tyler, 18, Oconomowoc.
George Moore, 26, Oconomowoc.
Frank Doonan, 23, Racine.

Misses Hyde and Stell and their companions, Tyler and Moore, were killed instantly when the express train plowed into a small coupe at an Oconomowoc grade crossing. The party was returning from a dance at Okauchee Lake.

Frank Doonan, Racine, was killed
when a touring car in which he and three companions were riding, skid-ded and tipped over south of Racine.

FEAR NEW OUTBREAK OF FIRES UNLESS IT RAINS

Leona — The main theatre of fire fighting Monday shifted from here to a point between Carter and Wabeno,
where a woods fire was threatening to get beyond control of farmers who had been battling with it Sunday,
and early Monday morning several guardmen left to relieve them.
The fires in this section, however,
were reported as smoldering after the death blow dealt them by Saturday's rain. The remaining guardmen, hopeful of returning home in a day
or two, were engaged in covering up
the glowing embers and in digging trenches around stands of virgin timber.
Fire Warden William Clausen, was reported as saying Monday that although the menacing giant was asleep he feared he would awake in a few days if rain did not fall in the meantime.

New Conservation Measure Asks Cut In License Fees

Madison — A new conservation appropriation bill intended to meet the approval of Governor Blaine is in the process of drafting, on the request of legislative joint finance committee, it was learned Monday. According to the plan of the committee, the non-resident fishing license fees which were raised to $5 each from the pre-scent rate of $3 by the conservation
bill recently vetoed by Governor Blaine, are dropped back to the $3
figure.

The change was made on account of objection from resort owners in northern Wisconsin who claim that an increased fishing license fee would serve to decrease resort patronage
from other states.

In the vetoed measure, three-fifths
of the raised fees would have gone back to the conservation commission
to be used for conservation purposes,
bringing the commission's share up to $132,000 annually from this source alone. This sum, under the new bill, is lost to the commission, but the present plan is to turn over to the commission a large share of all fishing and hunting license money both
in non-resident and resident classes.
The estimated revenue from fishing and hunting licenses from the above
classes is estimated by Commissioner
Elmer Hall at $487,600 annually.
What portion of this sum is intended to go back the commission was not learned. In addition to the conserva-tion's share, $15,000 is added annually
from revenue derived from the operation of the Weeks' federal aid law.
Outside of these appropriations, it is believed, little other money will be devoted for conservation purposes
under the new bill.

The vetoed measure carried appropriations estimated at about $500,000.

ASSERTS GERMANY WILL STICK TO DAWES PLAN

Berlin — Foreign Minister Strese-mann announced Monday to the Reichstag that the German government will continue to carry out the Dawes plan. Minister Stresemann said that Germany would not be obliged to welcome more than Germany the efforts of the Dawes plan
to accomplish the economic pacification of Europe.
He said that even those who opposed the acceptance of the Dawes plan are convinced that without it Germany would not have been obliged to wage a bitter struggle for her economic existence.

MEXICANS IN BATTLE WITH MISTAKEN ENEMY

By Associated Press
Mexico City—A mistake in identity,
with fatal consequences, is reported from the state of Jalisco where a band of armed agrarians and a detachment of the 85th regiment, both pursuing a band of outlaws, fought in the dark. Three of the soldiers and fourteen of the Agrarians were killed and many wounded. The firing lasted two hours and ceased only when morning came and the opponents distinguished each other.

ARBuckle WED, NOW IS TARGET OF BLACKMAIL

Los Angeles—An alleged attempt on the part of a San Francisco woman to obtain $25,000 in a blackmail scheme
from Roscoe Arbuckle, was being investigated Monday, by the Los Angeles district attorney, Arbuckle said. Arbuckle was married here on Saturday to Miss Doris Deane.

EXPECT EARLY DEBT PROPOSALS

French Cabinet Foresaw Is-surance of U. S. Ultimatum to Debtor Nations

By Associated Press
Paris—The Temps said Monday it understands a definite proposal will be made within 15 days by the French government to the United States and Great Britain for the settlement of war debts.
The action of the United States in requesting funding proposals from its European debtors was foreseen in France and answered in advance it is said, in official circles, by the ministerial declaration made after the cabinet meeting last Saturday. This was to the effect that Finance Minister Caillaux and Foreign Minister Deland had been charged with the task of studying the inter-allied debt question with a view to its settlement.

The Quai d'Orsay received a cablegram from M. Daeschner, the French ambassador in Washington, on Saturday giving full particulars of the American decision, but this is said to have contained no information that might cause the French government to precipitate negotiations other than those decided upon Friday.
The foreign office says it has not knowledge of any note coming from Washington. It is felt that no official communication could add anything to the information given by M. Daesch-ner, who made known that America
wanted action on the debt and explained the methods the United States would welcome.

MICHIGAN STORM LEAVES 10-MILE BARREN TRACK

By Associated Press
Detroit, Mich.—Weather and the elements combined over the weekend to damage property and to drive ships
on the northern lakes to shelter.
A storm of tornado intensity late Saturday wrecked barns, garages,
silos and smaller buildings, and felled hundreds of shade trees and telephone poles in and near Milan, cutting a swath three quarters of a mile wide for a distance of 10 miles. Lightning also caused much damage throughout
the lower part of the state.
Down bound steamers reaching Sault Ste. Marie yesterday were covered with a foot of ice and snow,
and reported passing through one of the worst May storms on record in Lake Superior.

MAY USE NAVY TO BREAK UP LIQUOR FLEET

President Is Said to Have Authority but Hesitates
Over Taking Step

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright 1925, by Post Pub. Co.
Washington, D. C. — The United States navy may yet have to be used to squelch Rum Row.
No direct request for the use of the navy has been made by the "drys"
but they recognize the possibilities
which may lead the government to call on the navy.
"We have not asked the government to use the navy at this time if the coast guard service can do the job," said Wayne E. Wheeler, general counsel of the Anti-Saloon league.
"We are confident that the coast guard will be able to cope effectively with the situation. If by chance it should not, then as a last resort we think the government would be justified in using any force at its disposal
to secure respect for the constitution."
Mr. Wheeler pointed out that there are several statutes which give the president authority to use the navy
in times of peace for law-enforcement purposes, but that while smuggling
was not mentioned specifically, it came within the general purview of law violation.

CITIES PRESENTS In other words if the coast guard shall be faced with a general defiance on the coasts of the United States and one branch of the government finds it self powerless, then it can call on another arm of the government for aid.

"In 1794," continued Mr. Wheeler,
"President Washington found it necessary to send military forces to quell
the whiskey rebellion in Pennsylvania because civil authority cannot put
a stop to smuggling on our coasts,
naval authority can be invoked."

The question has not been resolved
by President Coolidge although he has accumulated many legal opinions on the subject. What the president disclosed through his spokesman on Friday was that the navy shall be used primarily for national defense and not police duty but that a further investigation might bring him to another opinion.

USE IN EMERGENCY

Generally speaking, the military and naval forces can be called out in any emergency in which civil or judicial authority is insufficient to meet a crisis. Thus, whenever the department of justice finds in labor troubles that its marshals cannot secure obedience to court orders and injunctions, federal troops are ordered out to secure obedience to the federal laws.
Similarly, if the coast guard in the past has been unable to prevent smuggling of arms and ammunition to neighboring countries from American ports where an embargo has been declared, there have been occasional orders to naval vessels to watch for such smuggling and to arrest any persons engaged in a conspiracy to violate federal statutes relating to neutrality. Strictly speaking, the United States marshals are charged with the duty of enforcing neutrality laws, but again and again
they have had to call for marine assistance either through the coast guard or the navy.

St. Peter's Dome Blazes At Sanctification Of Therese

New York—Blessed Sister Therese,
a Carmelite nun of Lisieux, France,
known as "the little flower of Jesus,"
now is among the saints. She was sanctified Sunday at a picturesque ceremony in St. Peter's, Rome.
One feature of the ceremonies, the lighting of the dome of the cathedral
with 8,000 tallow torch lanterns, a spectacle not witnessed for 55 years,
is taken by many as an indication of the possible resumption of political relations between the Vatican and the government of Italy, Rome dispatches say.
The people became "prisoners of the Vatican," when in 1870, the soldiers of Garibaldi made their historic breach in the walls of Rome. In the same year the magnificent dome
last blazed forth at night, a custom started in 1644.
Saint Therese entered a Carmelite convent at 18 and died in 1897, at the age of 24, after a life virtually devoted to prayer. She died almost unknown.
Two incidents and acts of her brief life spread her renown that led to her beatification in 1924 and to her sanctification Sunday.
One book she wrote, a simple and brief biography, devoted chiefly to her mental and spiritual life, has been translated into almost every language. The name "Little Flower of Jesus" was given to her by those who
a few days before she died, heard her say: "After my death I shall send down from heaven rain of flowers."
During the World War she was known as the "Polish saint," and thousands of French soldiers carried her picture with them into battle.

DRAW JURORS FOR POISON MURDER CASE

Charles C. Faiman, Confessed Accomplice, Will Have Separate Trial

ONE WITNESS DISAPPEARS

Official from Attorney General's Office Will Observe
Developments

Chicago—William Darling Shepherd went on trial alone Monday
charged with the murder of his millionsaire foster son, William N. "Billy" McCintock, with the prosecution indicating that it would ask the death penalty.
Charles C. Faiman, head of a school of sciences, who was indicted with Shepherd and confessed that he instructed Shepherd in the administration of typhoid germs and supplied him with germs, believing that Shepherd planned to kill young Billy, was granted a separate trial on motion of State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe.
Both former Judge Crowe and William Scott Stewart, the latter chief counsel for Shepherd, announced themselves ready for trial when the case was called before Judge Thomas J. Lynch, of the criminal court. Judge Lynch in harmony with the recent discussion by the judges of Cook county in connection with trials
and the passage of rule prohibiting the taking of photographs in courtrooms, had refused to allow the writers or telegraph or telephone instruments, as well as cameras, in the court room.

KISSED BY WIFE
Shepherd, himself a lawyer, was pale when brought into the prisoner's dock. Mrs. Julie Shepherd, the defendant's wife, hurried forward and kissed her husband. She had intended to sit behind her husband but instead
was given a seat across the aisle
from him.
Shepherd's first comments when brought into the court room were those of the lawyer rather than of the criminal. "With a crime so infamous," he said, "it is inquired
whether the trial would be conducted speedily, and whether Judge Lynch
would be punctual."

WILL LISTEN IN

Oscar F. Carlstrom, attorney general for Illinois, said Monday that an official of his office would be assigned as an "observer" to report developments in the Shepherd trial.
William D. Shepherd is accused of the murder of his foster son, William N. "Billy" McCintock by administering typhoid germs to gain undisputed possession of the youth's fortune.

Mr. Carlstrom made the statement
following a conference with Chief Justice Harry O. Olson of the municipal court, who, as "counsel for the dead,"
has spent much effort in the prosecution of Shepherd.

A development today was the disappearance of Miss Estelle Gehring, Oconomowoc, Wis., one of the state's witnesses, who, as a friend of the Shepherds, carried on a correspondence
with the defendant for seven years.
She was styled by Judge Olson as a "very material witness" to the prosecution.
The trial got under way at 10:35 a.
m. Some time before the small courtroom, which provides seats for only 140 spectators, was filled.
The veniremen were questioned
closely by the state as to prejudices against capital punishment, against conviction on circumstantial evidence, and fixed opinions. Of the 10 veni-reman questioned at the morning session three tentatively were accepted by the state.

George Gorman, first assistant state's attorney, said he was of the opinion it would require two weeks to obtain a jury. The state and defense each has 20 peremptory challenges.

BRITAIN DOESN'T FAVOR BULGAR EXCESS TROOPS

London—It is learned in official circles that the British government, in agreement with the other allies, does not feel inclined to authorize retention beyond May 31 of the excess troops which Bulgaria was allowed to raise to care for the recent disorders
in that country.

JAIL AND FINES METED OUT TO UNRULY DRIVERS

Drunk Green Bay Man Gets
30 Days—More Arterial
Junkies Learn Lesson

Poor health and the need of an operation was all that saved Arthur Tomen, route 4, Green Bay, from 30 days of hard labor at the county workhouse when he was arraigned in municipal court Monday morning on the charge of driving a car while under the influence of liquor. A cleanup also was made on speeding and arterial jump line.

Tomen was given the former sentence at first, but it was changed to 30 days in the county jail. Officer Radtke made the arrest on Saturday at the corner of S. Oneida and W. Foster streets. Other arrests made over the weekend by motorcycle officers showed five for the city crew and four for the county cops. Elmer Rohm of the county crew got his first man of the season Friday when he brought in Melvin Rietter who paid a fine of $10 plus costs amounting to $12.20, for speeding in the town of Grand Chute. Another driver also made his first arrest when he got Don Purdy who was hitting 45 miles per hour in the town of Vandenberg on Sunday. Purdy paid a total of $12.20. Elmer Dunn added two to his list when he arrested Barney Hughes for going 48 miles an hour in Greenville and Ernest Wainbrach for 45 an hour in Grand Chute. Both paid the usual fine.

Chief George T. Prim of the police department took a hand in the game when Jack Pelhorinick, 725 E. Alton street, missed the arterial sign at a North-st crossing Saturday. Officer Radtke got Henry Maldevin, route 2, Hortonville, and Anton Herman, Maloney-rod, Kaukauna, for the same offense during the weekend cleanup and all paid $3 and costs, amounting to $12.20.

CONTRACTS LET FOR GOLF HOUSE

Winnegamie Land Co. Provides $14,000 Building at Butte des Morts Course

Contracts for the construction of the new locker house at Butte des Morts Golf club at a cost of approximately $14,000 were awarded to three Appleton firms Saturday to three of the directors of Winnegamie Land Co. Fred Hoeyner and Sons will take care of the construction work. Klein and Shmek, the plumbing and Langstadt-Meyer Co., the electrical work. The details and specifications of the new building were gone over before the contracts were let and several minor changes were made. The building will contain from 150 to 200 lockers and work will be started at once in the hope that it will be completed inside of 60 days.

GLASHEEN CASE READY FOR JURY

School Treasurer Charged With Embezzling Funds on Stand in Own Behalf

Michael Glasheen, former treasurer of Benulieu Hill school, town of Buchanan, took the stand in his own defense Monday morning in the trial of his case in municipal court. Glasheen was found guilty of embezzling funds from the school earlier in the year but the case was held open and Judge A. M. Spencer ordered a new trial when part of the records of the first trial were found to be incorrect. Several witnesses for state were called to the stand during the session. The state's proof and the defendant's testimony were read and John A. Lonsdorf, district attorney made his plea for the state. Attorney Thomas H. Ryan made his plea for the defense and the case was scheduled to go to the jury late in the afternoon.

The jurors for the case are N. L. Schommer, Little Chute; Frank Hahn, Appleton; Frank Hecker, route 1, Ben Creek; Matt Van Hoff, route 4, Appleton; Harry Kozz, route 4, Appleton; Edward Hassinger, route 1, Appleton; Ben Glasheen, route 4, New London; Lawrence Dulacinski, Hortonville; John Hoffman, Appleton; Stephen Sanders, Little Chute; Herman Lutz, route 2, Black Creek; Louis Wainman, Jr., Appleton.

COURT WAS TOO FAST: HE MISSES JAIL TERM

Stevens Point.—Although he was convicted twice within a week as a liquor law violator, and fined $200 on one charge and $250 on the other, Steve Spangl, of Mill Creek, escaped the customary jail sentence imposed upon second offenders according to law.

A technicality made this possible. Spangl pleaded guilty to the second charge before he was convicted on the first, and thus, in the eyes of the law, at least, he was only a first offender.

AMERICANIZED

A president's daughter, perhaps, should strive to uphold the traditions and dignities of her country. But Alicia Culler, 14 daughter of the president of Mexico, is thoroughly Americanized, after a few months school in San Diego, Calif. A modish bob supplants the long plait of hair. Rolled down hose and short skirts also appeal to her fancy. And although she came to this country to become a physician, she now wants to enter the movies.

INDIAN IS LEFT INJURED ON ROAD BY DRUNKEN PALS

Menominee Who Refused to Give Name Was Thrown
From Auto in Fight

Moonehling liquor chased the downfall of an unidentified Indian between Keshena and Shawano Sunday afternoon, when the red man was thrown out of a car by the others of his party and left lying on the highway, bleeding and bruised. The Indian, a Menominee, refused to disclose his name and appeared to have "forgotten" both where he and his friends secured the liquor and all other essential particulars.

He stated, however, that he and a party of friends had gone to Shawano where one of their number obtained a quantity of "moon." Then they turned to go back to Keshena, but after all of them had imbibed freely of the illicit alcohol, a fight started and he was thrown out of the car and left where he fell. Tourists discovered him and called a physician.

Aside from a pair of blackened eyes, a swollen face, various bruises and loss of blood the Indian was none the worse for wear Monday morning.

GIVE MONUMENT TO VETERANS ON DECORATION DAY

Two Programs Arranged for Observance of Memorial Day on May 30

Memorial day ceremonies this year will be featured by a dedication of the G. A. R. monument at the Riverside cemetery rather than by the services in Lawrence Memorial chapel as in previous years, although these services also will play an important part. The dedicatory address will be delivered by Vilas H. Whaley, past commander of the Wisconsin department of the American Legion, and Commander J. D. Hanchett of the George D. Eggleston post of the Grand Army of the Republic will make the speech of acceptance immediately after Mr. Whaley has finished.

The program will start at 1:45 in the Lawrence Memorial chapel with an address by Mayor John Goodland, Jr., as president of the day. The band of the 121st Field Artillery will render a selection after Mayor Goodland's talk, and the audience will join in singing America, after which the chaplain of the day will read the invocation. This will be followed by a selection by a ladies chorus, after which Dr. A. W. Kanouse will read General Logan's Order No. 11, when the ladies chorus will sing another selection.

Joseph Koffend Jr., will read Lincoln's Gettysburg address. Gustave Koller Sr., will make the Memorial day address and the chapel program will be concluded with the singing of America by the audience. After the first part of the program has been completed, the various patriotic organizations will form in their proper order and march to Riverside cemetery, where the second part will be held. This will be opened by the saxophone band of Onyx Johnston post of the American Legion which will render the Battle Hymn of the Republic. Then Commander Raymond Peterson of Onyx Johnston post will make an address for the post.

During the unveiling of the monument by uniformed Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts of America which will follow immediately after Commander Peterson's address, a double quartet will sing The Vagant Chorus. Then following the dedicatory address by Past Commander Vilas H. Whaley, and the speech of acceptance by Commander J. D. Hanchett of the George D. Eggleston post of the G. A. R. The regular ritualistic Memorial day ceremony will be presented by the surviving members of the Grand Army, followed by a salute of the firing squad of the American Legion, and taps by the bugler accompanied by the saxophone band. After the Artillery band has played the Star Spangled Banner, the chaplain of the day will close the program with a benediction.

The order of march has been arranged in two divisions to facilitate the keeping of order. The first division will be headed by the police escort, followed by the Artillery band. The colorbearers with the colors will follow the band. Then will come Co. D of the 127th Infantry, the Spanish-American war veterans and their auxiliary, the American Legion saxophone band, and the Onyx Johnston of the American Legion followed by the auxiliary.

The speakers' car will lead the second division and the cars containing the singers for the cemetery program will follow. Then will come the members of the G. A. R. who ride in cars, followed in order by the Women's Relief Corps, the J. T. Reeves, the Boys Scouts of America, Girl Scouts of America and other organizations, while citizens in cars will bring up the rear.

CLEANUP COST HALF AS MUCH AS LAST YEAR

Four days and an outlay of $406.80 were required for cleaning up the city this year, compared to eight days and the expenditure of $1,000 in 1924, according to estimates of street department employees and officials. Of the $406.80 expended this year, $243 was spent for truck hire and the rest for labor.

The rubbish was placed at the street curbs by residents and 127 loads were hauled to various dumping grounds. This amount was slightly less than that last year, according to John Bets, one of the foremen of street department employees.

Based on the estimate on the present population of Appleton, the cost per capita of the cleanup was slightly more than 1 1/2 cents, while last year it was nearly 6 cents.

WATERWORKS SUIT IN COURT FOR REHEARING

After 20 years of adverse decisions in litigation involving rentals for water hydrants here, the Appleton Water Works company recently won its first victory against the city of Appleton, when the United States Court of Appeals referred the case back to the United States Circuit court for rehearing. In all previous hearings the various courts of the state and the United States favored the city by setting rentals considerably lower than those paid in 1904 when the suit originated, but the Water Works company refused the checks offered in payment of the rental. The 20 year court battle has cost both the city and the Water Works company thousands of dollars, and as yet there seems to be no end in sight.

JUDGED BY YOUR NEWSPAPER

Outsiders judge a community by its newspapers. National advertisers, other newspaper editors and workers and those subscribers who live in other parts of your state or in other states have no other way of knowing what sort of town you live in except as they get their impressions through the local newspaper. The copy of the paper they see and the occasional reference to your home in the telegraphic dispatches are the only information they have on which to base their estimation of your home town.

A newspaper is what its readers make it. There are few business institutions which are more easily swayed by public opinion than the newspaper. The old-fashioned editor liked to think he was directing and molding public opinion, but he was more often swayed by the public opinion and voiced the sentiment of the community when he thought he was leading his readers. If the newspaper editor or manager is smart enough to know his business, his newspaper contains the things the readers want to see in print, to the best of his ability to produce and publish those things. A newspaper cannot be successful and print the things that the readers do not want. Nor can it succeed and withhold from its readers the sort of reading they want.

So long as education is free in this land and people in all classes can read and enjoy reading, the successful newspaper publisher must try to please all classes of readers in the news he furnishes. A newspaper filled with stories of crime would be about as acceptable and successful in a community of average Americans as would a newspaper filled with Bible lessons. Yet there are countless readers who would rather read Bible stories than stories of modern crime. The news columns of a successful newspaper cannot be used to force the people to read what they should. These columns should be a mirror of the day's affairs in the world and the reader can pick and choose such parts and incidents as please him and pass the others. The editor who pretends to give the people only such news as they should read is a hypocrite or inefficient and the world has no use for hypocrisy and will surely weed out inefficiency.

WHAT THE ST. LAWRENCE WATERWAY WILL MEAN

Eighty per cent of the world's merchant fleet, it is estimated, can enter the Great Lakes as soon as the St. Lawrence plan is developed. Water transportation is considered to be seven times cheaper than rail. Five cents a bushel or more will be saved on export grain, one-half to one cent a pound freight will be saved on meats, lard, butter and other dairy products under refrigeration. Heavy products like steel will take a saving from four to eight dollars a ton.

Development by drowning out the rapids of the St. Lawrence to a depth of 30 feet makes navigation possible for ocean-going boats, each dam developing hundreds of thousands of electrical horse power. Electrical horse power development by these dams in St. Lawrence is estimated to be 1,364,000 or 30,000,000 tons of coal per annum.

One 10,000 ton boat will equal 350 freight cars in carrying capacity. No breaking of bulk, rehandling or reloading. The average run of a freight car is about 25 miles per day. It's a poor boat that can't make 250 miles per day, or about 12 miles per hour. The territory served by the lakes has one-third of our population.

In 1924 the direct cargo movement up the lakes included steel, sugar, lumber, pulp wood, sulphur, flints, nitrates hauled on light draft boats. With the larger carrying capacity of ocean vessels, traffic would be greatly increased.

Wonderful saving of time will add to the value of every acre and every city lot between the Rocky Mountains and the Alleghenies. It will bring into use thousands of acres too remote from foreign markets and allow the west to participate in world traffic. Direct transfer from docks and minimum railway or truck haul to lake ports. No delays account embargoes at eastern seaports.

Comparative estimated cost—St. Lawrence $252,000,000; Panama, $100,000,000.

THE PROGRESS OF CRIME IN ILLINOIS

We had a fair example of Illinois justice in two news reports of one day. Lawrence Washington, a Negro, was hanged in Chicago for the murder of an Evanston confectioner, whose store he was trying to hold up. It is the first hanging Chicago has had in a year. In that time upwards of 400 persons have been murdered and not one of the slayers has paid the death penalty except Washington. There have been 143 murders since January 3rd, and none of the killers faces seriously the prospect of a death penalty, notwithstanding the fact that the law of Illinois says they shall be hanged for their crimes. Had Lawrence Washington been a white man, or had he had Clarence Darrow to defend him, he would not have been hanged. Had he even belonged to the organized gang of criminals which terrorizes Chicago, his life would not have been forfeited.

On that same day that Washington was executed, a jury in Waukegan let the murderers of Russell Dickey, a Green Bay man killed while defending the express car of the Chicago & Northwestern train, off with twenty-five years imprisonment. It was so rank a perversion of justice that even the attorney for the defense was moved to make light of it, declaring the actual slayer had expected life and that his accomplice would have pleaded guilty for thirty years.

Is it possible that the philosophy of Clarence Darrow, that murderers and criminals are entitled to more consideration than society and their victims, is gaining public acceptance? If it is, we are rapidly nearing the point when those citizens who refuse to be held up by gunmen, who refuse to be blackmailed by kidnapers who attempt to defend women against assault, who attempt to protect their property and their rights as citizens, will have to surrender to the superior claims of the criminal world. They will have no protection from courts, police or executives.

MILES A FIGHTER

General Nelson A. Miles, who died suddenly in Washington, was one of the conspicuous warriors of American history. We have had greater strategists and executives, but few greater fighters. The general was a sturdy and romantic figure in American military life, a veteran of three wars, including many of the great battles of the Civil War.

General Miles was of the period when men were men, when war was war, when fighting was fighting, when national honor was national honor. He was of an age which knew nothing of pacifism. He was of the period which wrought a nation out of the rough, of an age when there was no such thing as anti-Americanism, no such thing as pseudo-Americanism, when men were for their country and its institutions regardless of party or sociological theory. He was a picturesque and grizzled old hero, whose fame in those days stood out less conspicuously because he was surrounded by men of the same type. He was combative and became involved in disputes with his superiors, sometimes to his discredit, but on the whole not.

Altogether, General Miles was a wholesome and invigorating character, and a soldier whose genius and sterling qualities will be recognized always. He was a bonafide one hundred per cent American in everything he thought, did, lived.

All this water in flooded rivers comes from the storm.

Never let a good store cheat you. If you are buying wheat, there are 556,000 seeds in a bushel.

Health Talks

Noted Physician and Author

Dr. Brady will answer all signed letters pertaining to health. Writers of letters are never printed. Only inquiries of general interest are answered in this column, but all letters will be answered by mail if written in ink and a stamped, self-addressed envelope is enclosed. Requests for diagnosis or treatment of individual cases cannot be considered. Address Dr. William Brady, in care of this paper.

A HUMMER HUMS HIS HUMDRUM HUM
Before you feed this to the automatic chucker, writes E. C. T. of Arkansas, I wish to thank you for what you said some time ago in your column about humming for ringing in the ears. I began that exercise "right now," as we say in the south. For 10 or 12 years I have had itching ears, which good doctors treated without results. That sub-vocal labial dental exercise brings, in my case, great vibrations in the ears, and the itching has been forgotten for quite a while. The head noises seem to be so well satisfied with their old home that they are loath to give it up entirely—30 years of undisturbed possession is enough to make 'em feel at home.

Eight or 10 years ago I wrote about my "catarrh" and "rheumatism," and found out I had neither. Of course, at my age (I am in my eighty-second year) the nasal passages will not be cured of their ills, but it can be borne, and the joint trouble doesn't bother much now. You suggested that an old man should die with his boots on. I am working yet. I turn roll over in the hay now, when working in the heat I go bareheaded. I stand the heat better about a half another Bradysman. The head of the house says, "Ellas thinks the sun rises and sets where Dr. Brady is." I served my country in the civil war, pioneered in Nebraska territory, saw the grasshopper raids, felt the hot winds and the cold ones. I am now a childish old man, but you've helped me keep my boots on. Now, then, let the chucker have it. (E. C. T.)

The chucker got so greedy that I had to attach a patent restrainer, and when I got a letter like yours I switch on the restrainer, which makes the chucker growl and groan and causes the building to tremble some, but permits me to get the message all right.

Certainly, an old man should keep his boots on. It is a great mistake for a man to take off his boots and put on carpet slippers too early in life. This is not to imply that a man ought to hang onto his business or job long after he has passed the age of greatest usefulness. The government policy of retiring army officers when they have arrived at a certain age or completed a certain term of service is for the good of the service, yet many retired officers are still thoroughly competent to do other work, and for their own welfare they should do other work for years after they have been pensioned.

A man should endeavor to cultivate some kind of hobby or sideline or avocation different and apart from his regular vocation, and if possible an avocation which requires that he keep his boots on. Then, when he comes to the time to retire, he can do it naturally and gently and slip gracefully into the new calling, without any shock to anybody.

Many a man who neglects this hobby or sideline interest in his full years, on the foolish plea that he hasn't time or can't neglect his main business to monkey with other things, has a sad experience ahead of him. When he does retire the change from busy activity to deadly inactivity will prove a heavier blow than he expected, and it will give him a bad shove down the toboggan.

Yes, fellows, keep your boots on and roll in the hay, as E. C. T. says. If you haven't any hay here, then roll on the parlor floor or in the back hall. And this isn't so much psychology as it is just plain physiology. Boots or no boots, there are a lot of troubles one can roll away, and I now have testimonials to the efficacy of somersaults from people of all ages from 6 months (grandma wrote this one) to 80-odd years. Write for the somersault-a-laugh if you'd like to try 'em. But remember, I do not promise somersaults will cure anything except maybe dizziness.

AUTOMOBILE EPITAPHS

My now poor Harry Jones,
Lut flowers above his mouldering bones;
He thought the throttle was the brake,
And that was Harry's last mistake.
Roller Bump was a smart little lad,
At reading and writing he wasn't so bad;
But somehow or other he never could learn
To put his hand out when he wanted to turn.

Elmer Livingston was a crank,
On keeping "gas" in the gasoline tank;
The last thing he did on the night he died
Was to strike a match and look inside.

One sign of summer is that some automobiles are removing the Christmas holly wreaths from the back windows of their cars.

Milwaukee traffic officers are requiring that auto license plates be kept clean, so that numbers can be read easily. Another attack on personal liberty. Honestly, a fellow hasn't any protection at all any more.

Pests have met: Cigaret smokers who never have anything except the habit.

WINDY SIGNS
"You're sweet."
"Teeth extracted without pain."
"Scuse my dust."
"Don't go."
"Suits pressed while you wait."
(How long?)
"I'm in bed by nine every night while you're away."
"Plenty of room in the back of the car."
"I love you."

We have it from Jake that the pleasant thing about buying envelopes at a ten-cent store is that the clerk doesn't call them Ongevlopes.

BED TIME STORY
Once upon a time there was a careful motorist who always stopped his car at an arterial highway in order that the pedestrians might cross the street in safety.

Here are a few things Herbert Hoover forgot in his comparison of 1921 statistics with those of 1923.

In 1921 there were 19 different articles of clothing all well dressed girls had to wear. Now there are but five.

In 1921 there were 100 ways of making an honest living. Now there is just one, including bootlegging.

In 1921 persons had 37 chances of getting safe home at night. Now they have only two. Either don't go home, or else don't leave it in the first place.

George Whitehead, publicity director of Redpath Chautauques, Columbus, O., adds the following addition to the Freck Names club. "Take it or leave it, but in Salem, O., is a farm with the obsolete name of LOVE & OBEY."

HOW UNCLE SAM PROVES HELPFUL TO INDUSTRIES

Bureau of Standards Solves Many Problems of Country's Trade Interests

Washington, D. C.—The trend of the age is toward perfection, whether it be in the matching of one's suit and tie, the handling of one's fork at a six-course dinner, or the manufacture of a product.

The advances of science have shown those who create commodities or render professional services that the twentieth century will not long tolerate mediocrity; it must have perfection, or as near perfection as possible. In other words, manufacturers must keep their products apace with the research of science if they would survive.

With this in view the department of commerce, through its bureau of standards, has increased its activity in research tending to benefit the manufacturing and enterprises of the United States.

It has been since the war that this situation forced itself upon manufacturers. They found that more and more they had to solve their problems by scientific methods, or refer them to a suitably equipped laboratory. Of course, many industries are now handling their scientific problems by specially appointed laboratories in charge of trained experts, leaving the bureau of standards free to investigate the fundamentals of production. Such an arrangement is regarded as desirable, although the bureau stands ready to aid in any way it is needed, the only provision being that the results be made public.

It is claimed that this is a wise provision and a very necessary one and that it is obvious why it is made. The clay products may be taken as an industry example and an individual plant, says in Little Rock, Arkansas, which wishes to discover the best method of removing impurities from clay. It transmits its problem to the bureau of standards which makes experiments and reports its findings to the company, also making the data public. The company has benefited as has the industry in general and the United States is that far ahead of the rest of the world. The bureau being a government institution cannot but announce its findings to the people of the United States. It plays no favorites.

The investigations carried out by the bureau are usually made in co-operation with committees appointed by the manufacturers interested, and most of the investigations hitherto conducted have been prosecuted under this plan. These manufacturers have their associations, the members of which serve on committees, which meet at the bureau at frequent intervals to discuss with its experts the investigations in which they are interested. They also may suggest the lines of investigation to be pursued. Much of the material used in the tests is furnished by the manufacturers.

Still more effective as a means of cooperation between the bureau and the country's manufacturers is the research associate plan. Under this plan any group of manufacturers may send a research associate to work in the bureau's laboratories on problems of interests to the industry. He is paid by the industry, but in other respects he is a member of the staff of the bureau of standards. He has the privilege of using the bureau's facilities and organization and has

SMASHING A WASHINGTON IRVING MYTH
When I was a school boy I was taught, like millions of other children, the pretty and sentimental story of how Washington Irving remained a bachelor all his days out of devotion to the memory of Matilda Hoffman, his betrothed, who died as a young girl. Like so many a sentimental story, it is now found to be untrue.

George S. Hellman has written a book called "Washington Irving, Esquire," in which he gives the death blow once for all to the myth that Irving went through life with a broken heart and that he never recovered from the sorrow of his fiancée's early death. The only part of the story that is true, it now develops on the basis of unassailable proof, is that Irving never married.

The story which has been printed and reprinted in histories of American literature for three-quarters of a century had its inception in the sentimentality of Pierre M. Irving, the nephew of Washington Irving. Pierre was the first biographer of the author of "The Sketch Book," and according to Hellman, "in his attempt to perpetuate this gentle myth, he had recourse to comments, to suppressions, and to elisions whose nature is now apparent through a careful study of Irving's Dresden diaries."

HAD THREE AFFAIRS
Far from being bulletproof against love as a result of the death of Miss Hoffman, Irving was rather more given to having serious affairs of the heart than most bachelors and more than one he would have ceased being a bachelor, the documents seem to prove, if the party of the second part, namely the girl, had, like Barkis, "been will in."

Hellman tells of at least three women with whom Irving had affairs that were much more than mere flirtation: Mary Fairlie, Mary Shelley and Antoinette Boilevillier. Of these the second is the most famous and perhaps the most interesting. She was the daughter of William Godwin, the philosopher, and of Mary Wollstonecraft, a pioneer in the assertion of women's rights, and more interesting still, she was the widow of the poet Percy Bysshe Shelley. It would seem that Mrs. Shelley would have married Irving if the world had had her but he was at the time infatuated with the material and the time infatuated with the material and the time infatuated with the material.

For instance, a Chicago contractor may have a job in Quincy, Illinois. He is to construct a building of a certain material. The weather conditions in Quincy, however, are inimical to the material and, according to what he hears, will soon cause it to deteriorate. He asks the manufacturer from whom he is to buy the material about it and the manufacturer in turn appeals to his association in Chicago. The association is at loss as to how to answer him and hires an expert. The expert is sent to the bureau of standards under the research associate plan and the problem is threshed out.

DEATH MADE HIM WRITER
For in spite of American literature, Hellman thinks, it was fortunate that Matilda Hoffman died. "It seems a cruel thing to say, but I am convinced that if Matilda Hoffman had lived, the man of letters that the world of literature knows as Washington Irving would never have come into being. As the son-in-law of Josiah Hoffman, Irving would in all probability have had a sinecure as a junior partner in a distinguished law firm and later, perhaps through the influence of Hoffman, of Judge Van Ness and of other New Yorkers with voice at Washington, have obtained in early manhood the secretaryship of legation which he unsuccessfully sought during the administration of James Madison. There might, from time to time, have been some place, of writing from his facile pen, but that would have been but a forced Irving into the career of an author? Not even the success of "Knickerbocker's History" could stir Irving from the happy, indolent life of a young man about town. It is difficult to say whether his aversion from work or his love for society was more marked in the days of his early manhood; but in any event he presents the unparalleled case of an author leaving his pen almost unemployed for a period of nine years immediately following the appearance of a phenomenally successful book.

But the publication of the book that disproves by documentary evidence the myth about Irving's constancy to a memory will not dispose of the myth. Most people love a sentimental story too dearly to relinquish it when facts disprove it.

MEET TUESDAY TO SEE IF CLUB WILL SELL HUT

"Shall we place Appleton Women's club cottage on sale?" This will be the question to be discussed at the general meeting of the recreational department to be held at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening in the clubrooms. One of the outstanding reasons for selling the cottage would be that it would help solve financial conditions at the clubhouse. The location of the cottage is not ideal and the club also finds a resident director cannot be provided here because of the financial burden.

On the other hand it is the only camp the club have and there is no immediate prospect of another camp. These questions will be discussed at the meeting Tuesday and the women are hopeful that some decision will be reached.

WITH GREAT VALENTINO

In addition to the fact that "A Romance" is shown at the New Bijou Theatre today and Tuesday is of the type that has made French fiction extremely popular in America, the cast contains two of the most popular male stars of today, Earle Williams and Rodolph Valentino.

In the photoplay Valentino is cast as a member of the underworld, a café dancer, known as the Red Rat. It is regarded as highly dangerous to cross the Red Rat in any manner whatsoever and yet a Mons. Picard, master criminal, deliberately picks a fight with this power of the underworld and thereafter is in constant danger. The role of Mons. Picard is assumed by Earle Williams.

The Red Rat learns the plans of Picard and informs the police; but by the introduction of a love interest, the master brook is always able to turn the tables in a most unexpected manner.

It is a story full of surprises and unexpected twists, furnishing both Williams and Valentino with difficult and exacting roles. The action is exceptionally tricky and the business of a kind that reduces the players to be constantly on the alert.

THE PASSING SHOW

A truly great production will wind up the legitimate show season at the Appleton Theatre on Wednesday May 20. This company is playing the one night here enroute to Minneapolis where they open up Sunday May 24 for a week's run. They are enroute to the coast with three 70 foot flat cars carrying the special scenery and three special cars with six state-rooms carry the cast of nearly one hundred. Among these are George Price the well known Victor artist, El Brendel who is very seldom seen away from Broadway, Margaret Breen, Vera Ross, Perry Askam, Flo Bert and an aura of boric acid of bewildering beauties, the Living Chandeliers and the Castle House orchestra of nine pieces travels with this stupendous attraction. Its a mixture of vaudeville, burlesque, musical comedy, opera, extravaganza ballets and dramas, and will keep the interest at high pitch every minute. Let nothing keep you from witnessing this gorgeous spectacle if possible.

NORMA TALMADGE IN MOTHER-LOVE DRAMA

Frank Borzage's genius at handling the mother theme in motion pictures is proverbial.

He rose to fame by his direction of Vera Gordon as the ghetto mother in

"Humoresque," and he accomplished an even more poignant picture of mother love in "Secrets" with Norma Talmadge as the young frontier wife, as the middle-aged and then aged mother in an English baronial castle. Now, in "The Lady," which Norma opens in at the Elite Theatre tonight, the "Borzage touch" is again evident. The mother theme is strongly to the fore in "The Lady" and Norma has an opportunity to display an exceptionally wide range of characterization.

In "The Lady" Norma plays the part of a wife who is robbed of her husband by an adventurer, and who is later left alone in the world with her baby after her husband's death. Declared to be "an unfit mother," Norma then has her baby taken from her. Years pass, the "World War" comes, and Norma again meets her boy in circumstances of a most dramatic and tragic nature.

"The Lady" is a First National attraction produced by Joseph M. Schenck. It was directed by Borzage from Frances Marion's adaptation of the stage play of the same title.

JUST ONE BIG LAUGH AFTER ANOTHER

Those who saw Raymond Griffith in "Little Miss Bluebeard" need know nothing more to insure their being on deck at Fischer's Appleton Theatre where Griffith is now captured with Viola Dana and Theodore Roberts in "Forty Winks." Here is a picture with just one laugh. It starts at the beginning and lasts until the last scene.

The story is a melodramatic comedy and has no small amount of mystery tossed in for good measure. Griffith plays the role of a titled Englishman whom no one takes seriously who is engaged to the daughter of an old tradition bound sea Admiral. The ship's brother, a lieutenant in the navy, is tricked into losing some valuable papers, and Lord Alcorn Cholmondeley called Chumley for short endeavors to save the family honor by retrieving them. When Griffith starts out to retrieve the plans the fun begins. It is claimed that no funnier scene has ever been screened than that of Griffith and Cyril Chadwick (the villain) setting out on a target while the navy goes through target practice.

The "Gang" is with us on the same program in "Circus Fever." They will remind you of your boyhood days and drive away your cares. By all means see this laugh festival.

RIVER HASN'T BEEN AS LOW IN LAST 25 YEARS

Navigation in Fox River Difficult Because of Low Water, Prugh Says

The Fox river is lower this year than at any other time during his 25 years of experience in various official capacities on the river, according to Don J. Prugh, manager of the Fox River Navigation Co. at Kaukauna, and navigation is extremely difficult in consequence. The level of the river at Menasha is 4 inches above the crest of the dam, according to Mr. Prugh, while normally it is from 15 to 20 inches.

The conditions are especially bad below the DePere Locks, according to reports. When the wind is in the west or southwest boats often are held up from 10 to 15 hours. The winds from these quarters affect the waters levels here, because they blow the waters of Lake Michigan offshore. There has been no trouble reported here, however, and several of the lock-tenders report that although the water is unusually low for the season, boats have little difficulty in passing.

In Green Bay the low of water in the Fox river is causing considerable difficulty. Owners of coal boats have petitioned the city to dredge deeper channels in order to permit passage of boats but Mayor Wisner is of the opinion that this should be done by the United States government. The terminal drainage from the Chicago drainage canal is blamed in part for the low water, together with the lack of snow this winter.

Modern Fisherman Wants Comfort As Well As Fish

Either the fish are getting wiser or the fisherman has succumbed to the lure of the fanciful coloring and the ingenious shapes which the tackle manufacturers have devised for the modern fisherman's outfit seems to outdo even modern ingenuity in making lures for the water inhabitants. So queer are the baits that even the names are not found in the ordinary man's vocabulary but are a combination of fisherman's phrases, flaming colors and peculiar shapes. Even as the automobile has been developed into a smooth running, comfortable conveyance, fishing equipment has been developed so the most inexperienced amateur can avoid the inevitable backlash, consequent loss of temper and enjoyment for all inventive genius has not been devoted to commercial purpose but some have been sidetracked to make pleasures more enjoyable.

When one is seeking fishing tackle now he is presented with an uncounted number of flashy artificial flies, attractive looking plugs or false minnows, some very beautiful and others most threatening with their uncanny shapes. Many of the things offered are just as much a lure to the prospective buyer as to the unsuspecting fish and it is well not to let one's fancy run away when trying to decide upon equipment for his tackle box. Certain old standard fish lures are found in the array of more recent ones and it is almost a certainty that they have proved satisfactory or they wouldn't have maintained their popularity so long. These are the kind which every one should first select and then for experimental purposes some of the newer ones for along with many of the "not so good" are sometimes uncovered a "fisherman's delight."

Plenty of fish was all that was asked in the good old days but now convenience and comfort are wanted as well. This has been recognized by those who seek to entice purchasers for fishing baits and is responsible for the automatic winding reels, which with but a slight pressure of the finger winds the line and does it much more quickly and satisfactorily than the old style hand winder. There is also the anti-backlash reel, the vest pocket, folding dip net, appliances to strengthen poles, compact and complete outfits which may be tucked away in the tonneau of an auto and still leave lots of room for the lunch basket. All these things are aimed at comfort and convenience and they are going to make fishing more popular with those who like to indulge in outdoor recreation but do not like some of the discomforts which go along with it.

The expression is often heard that a person is as good a golfer as his tailor can make him, with slight alteration it may be made to apply to the fisherman and read, "he is as good a fisherman as a complete tackle box can make him." This may be as true in one case as in the other but if a person derives satisfaction from the highly decorated and great assortment of fishing tackle why is he not as much entitled to it as the man who rides in a six thousand dollar car when a six hundred dollar one will serve the same purpose. It is only one way of granting a reckless desire.

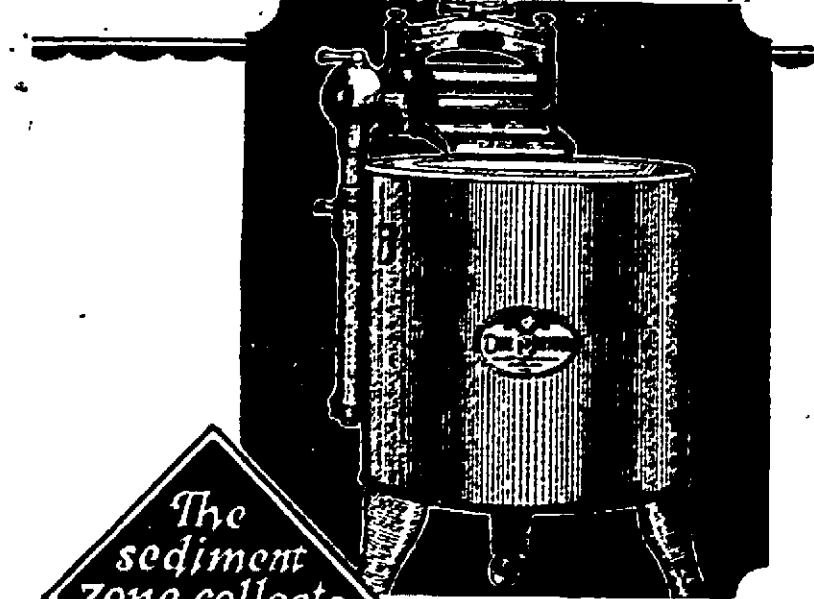

HIGHWAY 26 IS BEST DETOUR TO FONDY

Two detours are possible between Fond du Lac and Oshkosh to avoid the section of Highway 15 torn up for improvement, but although both of these are of the same length the one according to reports from Fond du Lac. To take this route the tourist must leave Fond du Lac by Highway 23 and then travel north on Highway 26 into Oshkosh.

From Fond du Lac to Rosendale the new concrete highway provides excellent riding, while Highway 26 to Oshkosh in Oshkosh equals the concrete for smoothness and comfort. In taking this route the motorist can cut a short distance from the trip by taking county Trunk C from Highway 23 about a mile east of Rosendale and then go north until he strikes Highway 26, but the road is not quite as smooth and well kept as the highway.

CITIES CONTEST NOW ON WINDUP

Most of Committees Finish Work in Time Allotted for Making City Surveys

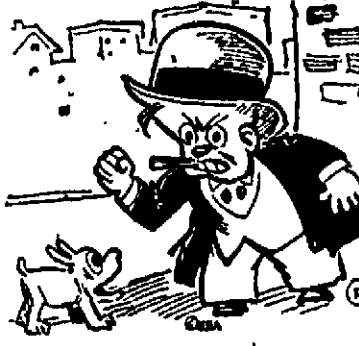

Almost all of the committees working on the better cities contest of the Wisconsin Conference of Social Work complied with the request of May John Goodland, Jr., chairman, to have surveys completed by Saturday. Two committees cannot make their full reports until June 1 and two others have part of their work still to complete.

With data from at least half of the committees in the hands of the editorial committee, of which R. J. Meyer is chairman, preparation of the final report will be started. The information will be compiled into a travelog which will give the judges an imaginary sightseeing journey through Appleton to view its places and facilities which make it a desirable place to live and therefore entitled to the $1,000 prize.

Committees which have completed their work and the chairmen are: City planning, Prof. O. P. Fairfield; health, Miss Mary Orblson; social welfare, Prof. L. A. Boettger; industry, William Filatsek; public administration, Alderman George T. Richard; town and rural relations, H. J. Post. Other surveys still to be completed are: Recreation, P. O. Keicher, chairman; religion, the Rev. J. L. Menzner; education, Dr. D. O. Kinsman; library, Miss Florence Day. The education committee cannot finish its

She Was Weak, Thin and Nervous

The greatest strength-giver and producer of good healthy flesh is Cod Liver Oil. It's full of vitamins.

But it's nasty stuff—ill-smelling and hard to take, and usually upsets the stomach.

Thank goodness! we don't have to take it from the bottle any more, for now Schlitz Bros. Co., Downer's Drug Store and all druggists are selling McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets, sugar-coated, and as easy to take as candy, so that you can get the real Cod Liver Oil in condensed form and get just the same result as with the horrible smelling liquid.

Men and women, weak, thin and nervous, are urged to put on weight and get back their health and strength with these wonderful tablets.

One woman gained 15 pounds in five weeks and that's going fast enough for anyone.

Only 60 cents for 60 tablets, and if they don't put five pounds of flesh on any thin person in 30 days—why, money back and no quibbling about it, either.

But be sure and get McCoy's, the original and genuine Cod Liver Oil Tablet.

SEEK DIETITIANS FOR GOVERNMENT HOSPITALS

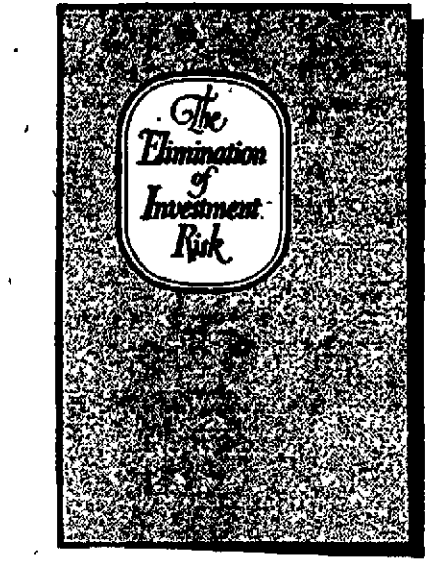

Dietitians in the hospitals of the United States Veterans bureau are needed badly, according to an announcement by the secretary of the United States Civil Service board. Examinations for these positions will

The number of eligibles is not nearly equal to the demand, according to the civil service bulletin, and local officials are urged to advertise this fact by every means in their power.

Play safe with your clothes

THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS worth of clothes are ruined each year by people who take a chance with "home treatments" in removing stains.

There are seventy-six distinct kinds of stains — fruit stains, grass stains, grease stains, ink stains, acid stains — and each separate one must receive just the proper treatment if the stain is to be completely removed without injuring the color or the fabric.

The skilled chemists and scientific equipment in our plant eliminate all chance in our process of removing spots from clothes, and save you a lot of work and worry. The moderate cost is sensible economy.

Let us help you get your spring clothing ready. We'll tell you frankly, before the work is done, whether we believe a stained or faded garment can be successfully renewed.

WAUPACA GOLF SEASON STARTS

Clay and Sand Greens Solve
Expense Problem for Club
Started Year Ago

Special to the Post-Crescent.
Waupaca — Waupaca golf club course is now proving very popular with the members, and every day each fairway is dotted with its quota of players. Much pleasure is taken in the new clay and sand greens, which are so successful that more are to be built at once. Six have been completed and the other three will be ready in about two weeks.

A particularly attractive one is to be made at green number one, which lies at the entrance to the grounds. A raised green is to be erected across the river sufficiently high that in case of high water it cannot wash away. The final green to be laid out will be at number four and this will also be of unique design. Many small golf clubs that are struggling with the expense of grass green find the solution at Waupaca. The perfect sand greens in evidence here are much ahead of temporary or imperfect grass greens for exacting play or putting.

Summer visitors are already making their appearance and greens fees averaging several dollars a day. Visitors may play for one dollar a day and as many rounds as they wish.

Memorial day will be the first anniversary of the opening of the club and the tournament committee is promising a program of interesting golf for the day, which will be announced later.

Waupaca was fortunate in building its course a year ago in that the land leased was mostly in pasture and the fairways were all in grass; the start that the club now has is equal to at least a half dozen years. The fairways are excellent.

The course is situated on 40 acres, traversed by the Waupaca river, and lined with tall pine trees. With the river, the hills and the many trees on the course, the play is interesting and scenic. Two of the greens are situated along the river and to reach two others one must drive across the river, which is about 70 feet wide, though clear and shallow. Another hole is reached with a drive from a high hill and four other holes are picturesquely situated. The club is supported by 60 local members and greens fees from resorters and visitors at Chain O'Lakes.

Light Your Gas Water Heater from Upstairs!

NO more overheated water tanks—no more running up and down stairs to light and turn out water heaters—no more danger from use of matches. Now you can have a little device on the wall of bathroom, kitchen or other room which automatically lights and turns off the gas under the water heater downstairs and gives you hot water when you want it and only when you want it. Saves time, steps and money. Costs only a few cents to install.

HOT WATER Only When You Need It

At Your Finger Tips Any Hour. Day or Night—Summer as well as Winter.

No matter where you live—no matter what kind of Gas Water Heater you have—you can now positively control the heater from upstairs.

At last—an amazing new invention gives you instant, positive, easy and safe control of the gas water heater in your basement or kitchen without the need of running up and down stairs. It can be attached right to your present water heater. Steps are saved—time is saved—greater convenience is obtained. And better still—you save much of the gas ordinarily consumed by the water heater. You set Time-O-Stat for a certain number of minutes—and that is the exact number of minutes the gas will burn. Time-O-Stat automatically lights the gas and turns it off at the end of the time for which you have set it. Located on the wall of your bathroom, kitchen or other room of the home, a mere twist lights your gas heater in the basement and, in a few minutes, you have hot water for bath or other purpose.

Saves Steps—Saves Worry

No other invention, since the perfection of the Gas Water Heater, has meant so much to the busy housewife as this wonderful little device. Tucked away in her bathroom or on the kitchen wall, it is always within arm's reach to save work and labor. Just a simple turn of the dial sets the Time-O-Stat and lights the gas under the water heater down stairs.

Then you can forget all about it—the gas will be turned off exactly when you want it to be. No matter if you have completely forgotten the heater and have left the house, Time-O-Stat will turn off the gas and prevent overheating of the tank. And you need have no fear of danger from either the burner or the pilot light going out through accident. Should this happen Time-O-Stat automatically shuts off the gas immediately. Every home which uses gas should be equipped with this amazing time and money protective device.

Takes Good Friend To Be Good Enemy

The type of woman that other women call "cutty," the one who catnaps until the men come into the room. Then she wakes up! And comes to life with a bang!

Always beware of the woman who hasn't an enemy in the world. She seldom has any friends, either. It takes a good friend to be a good enemy!

Many a woman has been weighed in the balance, and found wanting to reduce.

If stores gave their women-customer charge accounts for automobiles as they give them for dry-goods, there's hardly a family in this country that wouldn't have an automobile within two weeks!

QUESTIONS-ANSWERS

Dear Miss Grey: About three months ago my girl friend persuaded me to go to a public dance with her. Afterward we went riding with two boys she knew. They had flasks of whisky along, and we all had some. I had never had anything to drink before in my life, and I didn't quite know what was happening until it was too late. I am afraid I have got to leave home soon, or be publicly disgraced. For I am in terrible trouble. What shall I do about getting a job in another city where I could take care of my baby?—Twenty.

Better tell Mother first, hadn't you, Twenty? She will know how to advise you, and depend upon it, she will do everything she can do. That's what you want more than anything else, just now, isn't it? Tell Mother.

Dear Miss Grey: I hear that the man I expect to marry in June is running around with a married woman who is separated from her husband. Shall I speak to him about it, or pretend that it is beneath my notice?—Credolyn.

Nothing that your future husband does is beneath your notice. For it may affect your whole life's happiness. You owe it to yourself to ask the man you love just how much truth there is in the story you've heard. And be sure that you get the truth. If he has been paying attention to a married woman while he is engaged to you, and supposedly deeply in love with you, I cannot see wherein your married life with him is going to be a sanctuary of trust and peace, can you?

FASHION HINTS

GORGEOUS MATERIAL.

A gorgeous material has gold and silver stripes on a ground of sheer black chiffon.

BLACK AND PINK

The combination of black and pink chiffon is being used very successfully in Paris; one frock has a skirt made of bouquies of these contrasting notes.

CRETONE COATS

Cretone coats for both men and women have linings of plain linen or sometimes of silk, and have collar and cuffs of some brilliant plain color.

TIE SCARFS

Some of the new scarfs for spring are so very narrow that they give the impression of a tie worn without the customary collar.

DOUBLE BREASTED

The double breasted front is used for top coats and suit coats alike and promises to be one of the leading spring innovations.

NEAT TRIMMINGS

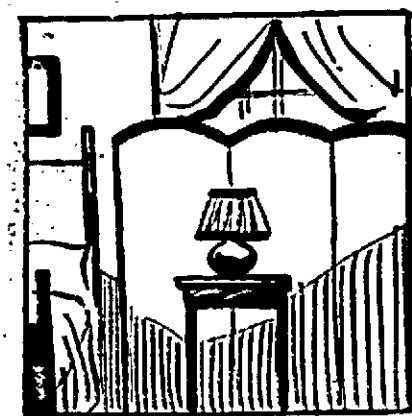

Unusual trimmings for a crown of beige colored silk are golden brown velvet roses scattered about quite promiscuously.

SILK TRIMMINGS

Bands of corded silk or corded ribbon make very pleasing trimmings for jerseys or dull faced wool fabrics.

How To Make Homes Cozy

SCREEN GIVES PRIVACY

If your bed is close to a window, especially when the bed-room is on a low floor, or facing another house, you can have privacy by placing a low screen in front of the window and beside the bed. This does not shut out the necessary light.

WEAR GLOVES WHILE SLEEPING TO HAVE PRETTY HANDS, SAYS BONNA

BY BONNA O'DEAR

In "Artists and Models"

In observing women of the stage and society in general, I notice that many youthful faces are betrayed by hands that are wrinkled and obviously old. For that reason, I believe in giving the same care to the hands you do to the face.

'After cleansing, I rub in a skin

food, being careful to rub it well into the knuckles about the nails. I always press the ends of my fingers to keep them pointed and tapering, and at night I rub in cold cream and then pull on a pair of loose cotton gloves and wear them all night. By this little extra care on my part, I keep them in excellent condition and am never troubled with chapped or red looking hands.

LETTER FROM SALLY ATHERTON TO BEE SUMMERS

Things have been changing colors and forms around here lately as fast as they do in a kaleidoscope. I can not say, however, that the colors are as rosy or the form as regular as those which used to delight our childish eyes when we looked into that little round pasteboard barrel and watched the bits of glass dance and change.

It almost seems to me, dear Bee, as though those old fashioned kaleidoscopes had a peculiar resemblance to the round world of humanity. We dance and change, our colors glow and fade and we form combinations only to break them up to form others seemingly without any volition of our own.

The only difference between us and the glass bits is that we are not satisfied to take the destiny that Fate sends us.

John Alden Prescott, as I wrote you in my last letter, was in Albany when Leslie's sister Alice committed suicide and you know he made it an excuse to stay away until the day of the funeral and then he came on with that debonair sang froid and looking as though he was perfectly sure of his welcome.

He had added insult to injury by sending Sydney Carton as an understudy.

I wonder what Jack Prescott thinks is the reason that Sydney Carton is always unobtrusively helping to make Leslie's life easier, hushing up all the scrapes that he (Jack) gets into—he cannot be so concerned as to think that Carton is doing it entirely for him.

I think, of course, that Sydney is in love with Leslie. I believe I wrote you that.

I think, of course, that Sydney is that so many husbands are not to think that their friends are nice to their wives because of the friend's brotherly love for themselves.

Of course, Leslie was greatly hurt that her husband would neglect her so at that time and that brings me up to date. I do not believe she has spoken to Jack Prescott since and you know she has gone to Atlantic City and left him.

My boss acts like a small child. Sometimes he is almost ready to throw in the towel when he thinks that his wife has gone to Atlantic City and left him here to start this great business without the comfort of her loving presence (you see it is very different when she neglects him than when he neglects her.)

This morning, however, he came down to the office with a look of smiling determination upon his face. I knew before he spoke that he had decided to be real devilish and forget all about the fact that he had ever had a wife.

Before we started talking business at all he asked me to go out to dinner with him and afterward go somewhere and dance.

Honestly, Bee, I had to laugh.

TOMORROW: This letter continued.

"I think we'd better go and see what the circus is doing," said the March Hare solemnly.

GREEN DRESS

A very deep shade of green makes an effective background for the hand-blocked design in lighter green and white which follows a somewhat irregular course over one shoulder of this afternoon frock. The cut is simple so as not to detract interest from the material itself.

CHIFFON POPULAR

Chiffon is so very popular now it is to be expected that it would influence sport clothes in some manner. Waistcoats and overblouses of chiffon are airy trifles that make anyone take more interest in sports.

MIRRORS FOUND EVERYWHERE ON STREET AND OFF

The mirror as an object in itself attracts the lover of beauty. Its polished plate glass, backed by silver in order to reflect truly and without distortion anything that is within its field, bespeaks cheer and brightness. Some mirrors actually consist of a simple sheet of plate glass, devoid of frame, but mirrors with frames multiply the beauties of the glass. Frames have designs antique or modern, appealing to all tastes. Persons who like simple, unobtrusive patterns can secure them. Those who prefer something gilded and ornate can be satisfied.

In addition to the mirror itself there are the varied reflections, and effects that can be gained by its careful location. Over mantels or console tables, mirrors multiply objects that are placed before them, through reflecting their obverse sides. In this way they make vases of flowers or statuettes doubly effective. Or their place can be chosen so that, as when hung opposite a long hallway or series of rooms, they reveal a vista of charm that adds to the apparent spaciousness of the room in which they are hung. A mirror that reflects outdoors from a position opposite a window inspires the beholder almost as much as a painting, and presents a more various scene.

From the viewpoint of practically mirrors are indispensable. The good man could not shave without one in the morning, nor his spouse make herself beautiful in the evening. Mirrors are found in closet and bathroom doors, and in the doors of medicine cabinets. About the modern

TEETHING CONVULSIONS

During teething children sometimes have convulsions and throw their mothers into fits of alarm. The child is rick for a moment, with fixed eyes, clenched hands and contracted face.

Dressing table they make a crystal maze. Most women and girls carry small ones into the streets, and employ them in automobiles and trolley cars. They are found set into the lids of powder boxes, and shining from opened pocketbooks. They probably will be found in the dashboards of airplanes when air craft have become so commonplace as to have terms of the horse-and-buggy era applied to them.

There is no cause for immediate alarm if the mother will keep her presence of mind and follow these directions.

However, a doctor should be called to determine the possible cause and to look for a remedy for this cause.

Then the muscles relax and the little patient falls into a heavy sleep. Physicians say that the child should be placed in a hot bath as quickly as possible, a table spoon of mustard being added to the water.

A cloth wrung out of cold water should be wrapped around the head and changed as it becomes warm. After the child is immersed he should be lifted out, wrapped in a blanket and left to sleep.

If there is another convulsion, the bath should be repeated.

Sometimes relief may be obtained by placing the child into cold water and then rubbing vigorously.

Dear Appleton Friends:

We may have met you personally, but we feel that we can be come still better acquainted if we tell you now and then how we feel about your patronage and how we wish to serve you.

The business dealings, we may have in common, depend altogether on your good will and the confidence you place in this store when we recommend something to you that you wish to buy. You do appreciate quality at a fair price and you expect of us the greatest value for your dollar—that is only natural.

Now the thing that is on our mind today is house paint. Possibly last year you agreed that it was time to give "Mr. House" a fresh coat of paint, but you put it off until this year for various reasons.

If your home is ready for paint we want to do you a favor—the next time you are near the store come in. We have something unusual to show you about house paint and when we are through, you are going to leave better satisfied because you have talked to us and whether you buy your paint now or later, you will have gained the inside story of paint manufacture, together with full instructions as to the amount of Linseed Oil and Turpentine used with paint and just how to use it.

We are direct wholesale distributors for the Sherwin-Williams Company, and there is only one profit between you and the factory and that is our small commission.

It's our Appleton—let's keep it well painted.

Sincerely,
PEOPLES PAINT & WALLPAPER CO.,

MANITOWOC WINS VALLEY CONFERENCE MEET

Shipbuilders Cop First Honors In Hard-fought Struggle With 6 Rivals

Nine Conference Records Fall as Four Teams Stage Fight for Victory

Showing a well-balanced squad which placed in practically every event, scoring four firsts and breaking three valley conference records Manitowoc high school track team Saturday afternoon stepped off with 32 points to win the second annual Fox river valley conference track and field meet conducted by Lawrence college. The race for second place was the closest seen here for some time with West Green Bay winning by a half-point as the result of a tie for third in the broad jump. West scored 22½ points, Sheboygan and Marinette, 22 points apiece, East Green Bay, 11, Appleton, 8½, and Oshkosh 8. The meet was run on a muddy track which not even a number of loads of sawdust could dry up well and rain fell throughout the events.

Nine records out of thirteen fell in spite of the mud and water and another was tied. Laminis, West Green Bay star, cut the time for the high hurdles from 19.8 seconds to 18.3 seconds, and two of his mates cut in on the weight records. Hanson hurled the javelin 136 feet, 7 inches as compared with 132 feet 1 inch in 1924 and Rodick hit 107 feet 6½ inches in the discus to beat a 96 feet 9 inch mark. Sell, Oshkosh, broke the other weight mark with a heave of 41 feet ¾ inch to beat a record of 40 feet ¾ inches. Timmer, Sheboygan tied the 100-yard dash mark at 11 seconds. Hillis, Manitowoc, won the mile in 5 min. 2½ sec. to beat a 5 min. 18.8 sec. mark. Schmitz, Manitowoc, won the 440 event in 57.2 seconds as compared with 57.6 seconds last year.

The 220-yard mark was lowered from 26 to 25 seconds by Immig, Sheboygan, and the low hurdles went to Glasgow, Manitowoc, with a 30.8 second mark as compared with 31 seconds last year. Kirkham, Marinette raised the broad jump mark 2 inches with a leap of 13½ feet 1 inch. Johnston, Appleton, went 19 feet in the event but stepped over the edge of the take-off. The best race of the day was in the half mile where Roemer, Orange frosh, lost to Skoracki, Manitowoc, winner for the last two years, in a fighting finish. Johnston's bad ankle spoiled a good 440 finish and he was forced to take third. Other local point winners were Slammer, with a second in the 220-yard dash, Capt. Johnston in the broad jump and Schultz in the mile run.

SCHWARZE TO ENTER FINNISH TRACK MEET
Chicago—Herbert Schwarze, the University of Wisconsin weight man, who is expected to shatter the world's record of 51 feet for the shotput before the end of his college career, will be among the galaxy of stars who will compete in the track and field games of the Chicago Finnish-American A. A. in the Grant Park stadium on May 31.

Charles A. Dean, chairman of the athletic committee of the A. A. C. who will manage and direct the games, asserted Coach Tom Jones of the Badger track team has written for entry blanks and the Schwarzes will be among the Cardinal entrants.

Dean also said there is a big demand for entry blanks, which is indicative of a large entry.

HALE PLAYING GOOD GAME FOR MACKITES

Sammy Hale of the Athletics seems to have hit his stride at last. He's been putting up a nice game for Mack so far this season, his hitting having been especially hard and timely. He's done much to give the team a good start in the 1925 center.

IN COMEBACK

EARL SANDE

Earl Sande, America's premier jockey, made his comeback Saturday afternoon in real style when he brought Flying Ebony, an outsider in the betting, across the tape ahead of the field in the Kentucky Derby. Many bets were placed on the winner because Sande was the jockey. He broke a leg while in the height of a great track career last year and it was thought that he would have to give up the riders seat for a trainers job as a result, but he surely came back.

"BARNYARD GOLF" ASSOCIATION TO BE FORMED HERE

Meeting Monday Night at "Y" Open to All Interested in Popular Sport

Final plans for the Appleton Horse-shoe Pitching association will be made at a meeting of all persons interested Monday evening at the Y. M. C. A. It will be a men's organization with the boys or junior teams worked in later on. The game of "barnyard golf" has become so popular in this city that the new association will make plans for several big tournaments this summer.

A tournament conducted last summer by the Y. M. C. A. was a great success. So popular was the meet that the final game was played in the dark with a large crowd of spectators missing its supper to attend.

Winners who were awarded prizes were John Newland, first, Walter Zuckow, second, Homer Dawson, third. The tournament was the first held in a number of years in this city and its success was the immediate cause of the new association. However, because of the lateness of the 1924 meet it did not take a quick foothold and an early start is desired by the eager participants this year. The meet was put on through the cooperation of the Y. M. C. A. and Post-Crescent. The winning medals were donated by the Post-Crescent.

WISCONSIN CLOSES BIG SPRING GRID SEASON

McDon. — Final practices have closed what is considered by followers of sports at the University of Wisconsin to have been the greatest spring football season in its history. Approximately 115 men reported in suits during the two months of training, with an average attendance of between 70 and 80. Fundamentals in tackling, blocking, running, passing and kicking were drilled into the men by George Little, athletic director, and his corps of assistants.

Toward the end of the season, scrimmages were held, the pick against the less proficient men, and during the last two weeks, the squad was divided evenly into two teams of about equal strength and regular games played, which brought out hundreds of spectators.

Coach Little's new material that shows promise of development next fall was uncovered during the season. In the opinion of Director Little, "Eleven of the candidates showed the fight that makes for good football," Mr. Little said. "Competition was keen and everyone seemed to be working hard for one purpose—a greater Wisconsin athletically."

The practice this spring, in the opinion of coaches, will make it possible to begin work on team unity and the details of Little's system of play much earlier next fall than otherwise would be the case.

GRAY WINS 7TH IN ROW; HOLDS MACK IN LEAGUE LEAD

Athletics Take Ninth Straight as Bucks Hang on by Beating Indians

New York.—The year old prediction of Manager Connie Mack of the Athletics that Sam Gray, formerly of Fort Worth, Texas, would rise to distinction as the ablest right hand pitcher in the American League has approached fulfillment.

Gray had in seven consecutive triumph Sunday in turning back the Chicago White Sox, 6 to 1, with five scattered hits. The triumph boosted Philadelphia's winning streak to nine straight.

The world champion Senators hung on to the flying American League leaders as Zachary nosed out Uble of Cleveland in a mound duel, 2 to 1. Tris Speaker returned to the lineup of the Indians after treatment for a dislocated knee at Rochester, N. Y., and poled out a double and two singles.

Collins and Hort hooked up in a pitchers battle at Detroit, with the Tigers on the long end of a 3 to 2 score. Mays paved the way for a Yankee downfall and the end of Detroit's six game losing streak.

The St. Louis Browns piled up eleven runs on four hits against the Boston Red Sox. The generosity of Boston pitchers with passes and loose fielding were responsible. George Sisler, with one safety, advanced his consecutive game hitting streak to thirty-two.

Th Glants increased their margin in the National League another full game by making 16 hits and 10 runs against Chicago. Gabby Hartnett, Cub home run star, fanned twice.

Pittsburgh bats chased Dazzy Vance to the club house in the sixth inning after he had yielded 14 hits. Brooklyn was subdued 8 to 5, and forced to share second place in the standing with the Phillies.

LEGION AND ROTARIANS BATTLE FOR 1ST PLACE

The tie for first place which exists in the Lark softball loop will be broken Tuesday afternoon at Jones Park when the Legion and Rotary crews, joint holders of the position, clash in what should be a hard game. The Legion crew has trimmed the Kiwanis and Lions, both leaders of the 1924 race, while the Rotarians also beat the cello champion Kiwanis. On a comparative basis the teams are evenly matched, the Soldiers beating the Kiwanis, 12 to 7, and the Rotarians winning 13 to 5. The Legion is a slight favorite to win, but all Rotarians expect to see the dope bucket receive a hefty kick.

Panama-Jose Lombardo, feather-weight champion of Central and South America, knocked out Bobby Riden of New York in the ninth round.

Appleton Track Fans Can Get Partial Fare To Meel

Local high school students and sport fans will have the opportunity to obtain fare and a half to Madison over the week-end of May 22-23, where they may see their favorite stars compete with the cream of state high school track men, swimmers, and tennis players.

Those planning to attend the greatest interscholastic athletic program ever attempted by the University of Wisconsin should purchase one way tickets from the local agent and at the same time get certificates on receipt. Present these to the validated at the Madison stations. Certificates and tickets must be purchased between May 19 and 23 inclusive. To get half fare on the return trip certificates must be presented not later than May 27.

The entire week-end will be crowded with the best events of the entire school year. Friday afternoon, May 22, the University of Minnesota will meet Wisconsin in one of the fastest dual meets of the season. On the same afternoon there will be held the annual gymnastic field day at Camp Randall.

Friday and Saturday the best high school tennis players will vie for hon-ors. At 10 o'clock Saturday morning the first annual interscholastic swimming meet will be held. Early entries show that this meet will be fast and furious. At 1 o'clock the Junior varsity crew will race St. John's Military academy eight.

The thirty-first annual track meet will be run off in the afternoon, starting at 1:30. The crowning event of the week will take place Saturday evening, when Wisconsin's most beautiful pageant will take place—Venetian Night, the famous night water carnival on Lake Mendota.

MILLS THINKS BELOIT WILL HAVE BIG YEAR
Beloit — Spring football practice closed at the Hancock field gridiron without much ceremony. The only outward signs of enthusiasm were found on the faces of some of the players who began to tire of the steady grind in the warm spring weather when canoes, baseball, tennis and the Indian mounds offer more pleasant attractions.

Put to Coach "Tommy" Mills, the close of the spring season meant nothing. His time will be occupied with the managing of the inter-fraternity baseball league, the direction of the Greek play, and the various other jobs in his office.

"I am greatly pleased with the accomplishments that were made this spring," said Coach Mills this morning. "I have lined up my players, have given them a good drilling in fundamentals, and feel that the progress this spring will be readily completed in the fall. Prospects are exceedingly bright for the big year in Beloit athletics during 1925-26."

CLUBS LEAD LEAGUE IN RUNS BUT THAT'S ALL
At this writing Detroit and St. Louis lead the American League in the run-scoring department. And yet both clubs are quite a bit removed from the top of the heap. Poor pitching and inferior work afield have held the Tigers and Browns down.

Pitts-Ptolemy, who rule favorite in the betting to win the English Derby, finished second to Faraway, an outsider in the betting at Longchamps. Tresigny finished third.

RUN IN 6TH FRAME BEATS PIERCE'S BALL TEAM, 2 TO 1

Cissa and Corey Poke Out Menasha-Neenah Squads Only Clean Hits

Kenosha—Kenosha Twin Sires retained their lead in the Wisconsin State league by edging out the Menasha Neenah club, 2 to 1, while a crowd of over 1,500 shivered through the tilt at Nash stadium Sunday afternoon.

Normann Platt, former Brooklyn ace and idol of the Simmons team here last year, pitched for the first time this year and hurled superbly for seven innings. He yielded but three hits and one run when he gave way to Rolla Maple, southpaw, who finished the last two innings.

Ray Friday hurled for Menasha and gave seven blows, including two apiece for Caton, Beall and Hammond. Cissa with a triple and double and Corey with a double and single collected Menasha's four drives.

Menasha scored in the first session when Cissa poled a triple and romped home after Corey singled with two out. Kenosha tied the score in the second. Hammond walked, went to second on Beall's sacrifice and scored on Dobbens single to right after Crutcher's lifted to Johnson.

The locals clinched the verdict in the sixth. With one out, Hammond singled, took third on Beall's long single and counted on Crutcher's sacrifice fly to Cissa. After one was down in the ninth, Corey laced a double for Menasha, but died on second when Johnson flied to Rummel and Maple fanned Warden.

USE 17 PLAYERS BUT LOSE A GAME ANYWAY
The Pirates used 17 men in a game with the Phillies the other day—almost two full teams. But it proved futile, five McKernie hurlers failing to check the Fletcher assault.

While on the subject of the work of an Appleton ind is worthy of mention, Bob Roemer, a frosh, staged a real finish that almost won him the mile run from Skoracki of Manitowoc, a four-year vet. Skoracki won the race for the last two years here and is the record holder. Bob, with no experience, almost ran him off his feet at times. The Orange boy tried the half-mile for the first time in the high school interclass meet last week after working on the sprints where he also shines, all the year. We predict victory for him the conference meet for at least two years of his high school career and wouldn't be surprised to see him take the record before he graduates.

BADGERS BEAT W. U. IN EXTRA-INNING BATTLE

Eleven innings of baseball was required for the Badgers to beat their old rivals, the Western Union, Sunday afternoon in a game played on the Third ward ice rink diamond. The final score was 13 to 12. It was the second victory for the Badger. Both teams played fine ball with the Badgers having a slight edge. A return game will be played between the rivals on Sunday, June 7. Batteries for Sunday's game were, Badgers—E. Helms and R. Parker; Western Union—C. Demand, C. Rogers and L. Curtiss.

WANTS PENSIONED FOLK TO WEAR SPECIAL GARB

By Associated Press
Everett, Eng.—In order to remove the stigma which the receipt of poor law relief is supposed to give to people, the Bishop of Exeter suggests that these poor honorable people should wear a special uniform and be called Kings Bedesmen. He says the merit of these people should be recognized by the state in such manner as to show that, because they have served England well, England valued their services.

King's Bedesmen, he says, should be admitted at a court presided over by the mayor, they should live where they like, should have an honorable place in the churches, and Scouts and members of the Church Lads brigade should be taught to salute them.

CONSIDER OLD STATUE GREAT ART SPECIMEN

By Associated Press
Lincoln, Eng.—For long regarded as of very little value, the statue of Queen Margaret on the side of the south porch of the cathedral here, has now been acclaimed by an authority on architecture as "possibly the finest and most perfect example of medieval portland sculpture left in Europe."

Search is now being made for the name of the sculptor. After 600 years of exposure only the hands and the lower parts of the draperies are appreciably damaged. A suggestion that the statue should be removed from its present exposed position and placed in a specially prepared niche in the back of the altar screen in the Angel Choir has not been favorably received by the dean and chapter, but it has been enclosed in a wooden case to prevent further damage.

AMERICAN ENGLAND

London.—Commenting on the fact that "nothing seems safe from the fire of Lady Astor's criticism," the Evening Standard says she "is merely the advance guard of Yankee influences in this country, which are spreading in every direction to such an extent that in the course of three or four years all our institutions will be thoroughly Americanized."

COUNCIL WILL CHOOSE SITE FOR TOOLHOUSE

Mayor John J. Goodland, Jr., called members of the common council together Monday afternoon to visit the stock fair grounds in the west end to choose a site for the building planned to house tools and supplies for the street department. At an informal discussion recently the council decided that such a building would result in a saving for the city, because it would permit of the purchase of tools, materials and supplies in quantities, thus bringing about a considerable reduction from retail prices.

The aldermen who were inclined to the belief that all tools were kept in one building, it would be possible to keep a closer check on them, and thus prevent waste from the loss of mislaying of implements.

The council will choose a site for the building planned to house tools and supplies for the street department.

Waupaca — Dr. H. Fleischer of Clintonville, found guilty of second degree manslaughter in circuit court before Judge Parks Friday night, after a jury of six men and six women had deliberated for an hour in the afternoon to a verdict of guilty in the evening was immediately released on the same bonds which were in force previous to the trial. He was charged with causing the death of a girl because of an illegal operation.

The doctor was confident of an acquittal up to the very last, as was shown by his conversation with a newspaper reporter just previous to the verdict. Among the questions he asked was if it were customary for a defendant to shake the hands of the jurors when acquitted.

Dr. Fleischer stated he was compelled to make a change in lawyers within the last week owing to the illness of counsel previously engaged, Leon Sayer, the attorney he engaged, is only 25 years of age.

It was expected that motions for new trial in the case of Dr. Fleischer and Arthur LaValley would be heard sometime Monday by Judge Parks. All jury cases on the criminal court calendar to be tried at this session are now completed and the balance of the term will be taken up by civil cases.

WILL PRESIDE AT FONDY

At the conclusion of the present term of court here Judge Parks expects to sit in Judge Werner's court in the Fond du Lac circuit. Thirteen defendants charged with liquor violations have asked a change of venue and filed affidavits of prejudice against Judge Fowler who has called Judge Parks to try the cases. Five men received jail sentences from Judge Parks during the present term of court. Four of the five were sentenced on pleas of guilty. It is a question whether Judge Parks will be more lenient with the guilty ones than Judge Fowler.

$336,000 LEFT IN TREASURY TO OPERATE CITY

Council Can Spend About $43,000 a Month for Remainder of Year

With $336,867.32 left in the general fund after an expenditure of $37,624.75 for April, Appleton will have approximately $42,108 per month left to spend for the remaining eight months of the year according to the monthly report of the city clerk. No money was spent during April for pavements and walks, street cleaning or improvements on the swimming pool, and only $2,352.49 was spent for street maintenance, which means that normally the expenditures will be greater during the summer months, when these operations get under way. There will be more receipts during the year to increase the amount of money available.

On the other hand an overdraft of $1,035.47 was made for the purchase of street equipment during January, February, March and April, the total expenditure during April for that purpose having been $8,999.80. Other overdrafts shown in the report for April were $166.65 for the secretary of the board of education, $95.55 for elections, $14.13 for auditing accounts, and $497.70 for tax rebates.

Salaries in the various funds on April 30 were: General fund, $336,867.32; bridge fund, $887.92; junior high school fund, $167,535.09; police pension fund, $5,933.52; firemen's pension fund, $25,337.54; outstanding orders, $9,531.60.

2,000 PICTURES IN ART EXHIBIT

Display Conducted for Two Days Here Contains Work
of Noted Painters

An art collection of more than 2,000 prints valued at $10,000 was placed on display Monday at Conway hotel and will be on exhibition to the public Monday evening up to 10 o'clock, and on Tuesday from 9 o'clock in the morning to 10 o'clock in the evening. A remarkable set of pictures is being shown under a plan of Schommer Art shop to bring the art gallery to the people of Appleton instead of compelling them to visit some large city to see work of master painters. These pictures were brought here by C. H. Jensen in charge of the educational department of Brown Robertson Co., Inc., New York City. Mr. Jensen and John C. Ryan and Edgar P. Schommer of this city are in charge of the display and are explaining the work of the artists to the visitors. The public is invited to visit the lounge of Conway hotel and see the collection, with no admission to pay or obligation of any kind.

The majority are prints printed from the original etchings, where the editions, usually are limited to 50 to 250 copies, and are the signed proofs of the artists.

Beautiful black and white etchings by Louis Orf, American artist stationed in Paris, are prominent in the exhibit, together with those of J. Paul Verres and Earl Hoiter. The works of George Senseney, John Cotton, Fred Haines and Leo Brown are included in the color prints and there-

Blast Of Atoms Some Day May Wreck Entire World

BY CHARLES P. STEWART

Washington — What are the chances that some reckless scientist will press a button or pull a lever one of these days and blow the whole universe sky high? Atoms are supposed to be energy. Something like a teaspoonful of this stuff, released, would furnish power enough, according to the scientists, to drive the Leviathan across the Atlantic. Only it's hard to release.

STEWART

However, experimenters are trying to do it all the time. Inasmuch as an atom is infinitely too small to see with the highest power microscope, it's difficult to tell how far they've succeeded, but two or three scientists believe they have chewed a very limited number of atoms all up "disintegrated" them, as they say.

Obviously the sudden, uncontrolled release of the energy contained in any considerable quantity of atoms, if they're as powerful as scientists assert, would stir things up to a marked extent.

Bottled and let out homeopathically to drive the Leviathan from New York to Liverpool, it would be all right. But simply released unconditionally and allowed to fly all over my? In fact, they speak at the government bureau of standards of the "explosion" of atoms.

If a teaspoonful would kick the 55,000-ton steamship Leviathan 3000 miles, what would a quart or a gallon or a barrelful do?

Indeed, there's a theory that the "explosion" of only one atom, under proper or maybe it would be more appropriate to say improper conditions, might set off all the rest—the entire universe of them—just as the explosion of one grain of powder in a keful explodes all the other grains, too.

You can visualize it: One second everything running along as usual—

we worldlings busy at our regular jobs—the sun bursting out into spots—the moon reflecting light and attending to the tides—the planets whizzing around as per schedule—the distant stars twinkling—to beat the band—the whole plant operating like a watch!

Then the next second, or fraction of one, the reckless scientist aforesaid, having done all his preliminary fixing, touches a little gadget and floor!—throughout infinitely nothing but gas!

It may sound fresh in a mere layman, and an ignorant one, at that, to say so, but I don't believe all this atomic stuff the scientists get off. To read it in a book or listen to a lecture, you'd think they knew exactly what they were talking about.

But call on one and try to pin him down. You'll find him vaguer than you expect. I tried it at the bureau of standards. "Aro atoms," I asked "theories or facts?" "Facts," said the bureau experts. "We're as sure of them as the Grand Inquisitor was that the world didn't move, when Galileo said it did." Which was pretty sure, but the Grand Inquisitor was wrong.

Then I asked Dr. Abbot, at the Smithsonian Institution, "We're as certain about atoms," he replied, "as we used to be about the nebular hypothesis. We were mighty certain about that—but the idea exploded now."

"What's a layman to conclude when scientists talk like this?" I inquired of Dr. Todd, the astronomer. "That they do a lot of guesswork," the doctor rejoined.

LET CITY BOARD GO TO MADISON

Water Commission Given Permission to Attend Municipal Meeting at Capital

Members of the Appleton water-works commission were authorized to attend the annual convention of the Wisconsin League of Municipalities next week in Madison if they so desire, at a meeting of the commission in the city hall Saturday morning.

The meeting was held in the morning because the Saturday afternoon closing rule went into effect last week. The commission authorized Fred R. Morris, assistant secretary, to advertise for bids on a carload of 30-32 fuel oil for the summer. The lighter gravity oil was decided upon because there are no heating facilities at the storage tank of the water commission. In the winter when the heating plant is in use, heavier oil is used, with a 32-36 gravity.

A payroll amounting to $1,263.82 was authorized by the commission Saturday, and also the payment of bills aggregating $2,678.97.
